BLUE’S ALLEY CATS

A helping paw for community cats.

Every community cat deserves a healthier, safer future. Blue’s Alley Cats is a community cat initiative of Blue’s Buddies, created to help make trap-neuter-return (TNR) more accessible throughout our area.

What Is Trap-Neuter-Return?

TNR is a humane approach to managing community cat populations. Cats are safely trapped, spayed or neutered, typically vaccinated against rabies, ear-tipped for identification, and returned to their familiar outdoor homes when appropriate. Over time, TNR helps prevent unwanted litters and reduces the number of cats entering already overwhelmed shelters.

How Blue’s Alley Cats Helps

Our goal is to serve as a financial resource for TNR efforts across the surrounding communities. Through donations and partnerships, Blue’s Buddies aims to help offset the cost of spay/neuter services for eligible community cats, supporting the individuals, caregivers, rescue groups, and organizations doing this important work.

Why It Matters

One surgery can prevent future litters. Many surgeries, made possible by neighbors working together, can create lasting change. By helping remove financial barriers to TNR, we hope to improve community cat welfare, reduce overpopulation, and support a more compassionate solution for cats and the people who care for them.

Be Part of the Solution

Whether you care for a colony, volunteer with a rescue, provide veterinary services, or simply love cats, there is a place for you in this mission. Donations help turn compassion into spay/neuter access—one community cat at a time.

Less breeding. Fewer unwanted litters. Healthier community cats.
